- It offers a clear focus and starting point for an effective way to bring the outside world into the classroom and to develop fun role-play.
- It is very simple to use and excellent for supporting listening and speaking skills.
- It has good planning support and resource ideas and the judges particularly liked the parent sheet.
- It represents very good value for money which would encourage settings to buy a range of these products to support role-play in the Foundation stage.

The judges shortlisted your entry for the following reasons:

- This is a cost-effective and immediately accessible early years resource that will enhance and inspire creativity and role-play in the Foundation stage.

The judges were asked how your entry could be improved. Here are their comments:

- The judges felt that there was a lack of interactive opportunities compared to some of the other products in the market (including other titles in the Early Vision range).
- Some of the photos were of a low resolution and sometimes rather dark.
- The facility for controlling video playback would be enhanced by having the icons on screen rather than right-clicking.
